Attachment 1: COVID-19 Travel Declaration

In response to the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic the Australian Government, via its website Smarttraveller.gov.au, provides travel advice to all Australian citizens and permanent residents. As of 2 May 2022, the Australian Government advises exercising a high degree of caution if travelling to New Zealand. If you choose to travel and compete internationally it is important you understand the medical and financial risks of that decision.

Listed below are some, but not all, of the risks that you may face if you choose to travel overseas:

1. COVID-19 is a respiratory illness caused by a new virus. Symptoms include fever, coughing, a sore throat and shortness of breath. The virus can spread from person to person. There is no current treatment that cures or prevents COVID-19. Overseas travel increases your risk of contracting COVID-19.
2. Overseas travel is likely to involve an elevated risk of contracting COVID-19.
3. Biosecurity measures and travel restrictions are in place to help prevent the spread of COVID-19. These measures are constantly changing and vary from State to State and Country to Country. These measures may impact your travel plans.
4. COVID-19 is a serious disease that can be fatal or can cause long-term health impacts. As a new virus there are unknown long term respiratory, cardiac, vascular, neurologic implications associated with contracting COVID-19.
5. Individuals with pre-existing disease are at higher risk of serious complications from COVID-19.
6. Contracting COVID-19, will necessitate medical clearance from a specialist before resuming high intensity sport.
7. Contracting COVID-19 may require one or more of enforced quarantine, restricted ability to travel, hospitalisation, ICU admission.
8. Medical treatment overseas could result in financial costs in multiple tens of thousands of Australian dollars per day. It is the responsibility of the traveler to ensure that they have appropriate insurance or other arrangements in place to meet any medically related financial costs that may arise. Insurance policies must specifically cover treatment for COVID-19.
9. Due to the potential for reduced flight availability, athletes wishing to leave from and return to Australia may face large financial costs when booking travel.
10. At present returning travelers are not subject to a quarantine period on their arrival. Be aware this situation may change at very short notice.
11. At present, all fully vaccinated travellers are not subject to self-isolation or quarantine measures upon arrival in New Zealand. All travellers to New Zealand by air must complete and submit a New Zealand traveller declaration (NZTD) and receive a Traveller Pass before departure. They are also required to provide a negative COVID-19 (PCR or RT-PCR) test taken within 48 hours of their first international flight. If travelling from Australia, you can provide results from a supervised negative rapid antigen test (RAT), or a supervised loop-mediated isothermal amplification (LAMP) test, taken within 24 hours of your departure.
12. Insurance policies may not cover flight changes, travel cancellations or mandatory quarantine periods if due to COVID-19 resulting in the potential for large financial costs being incurred.
13. Insurance policies may not cover all medical costs that may be incurred due to COVID-19 (Please check any pandemic exclusions listed in your policy).

By signing this declaration, I understand and accept the medical risks and financial risks that I may face by travelling overseas during this COVID-19 pandemic and agree that I will not hold the Australian Curling Federation liable for any consequences resulting from my overseas travel or late notice cancellation of the event due to Covid travel restrictions.
